The main reason why we evaluate courses and teaching is to enhance student learning. A continual improvement cycle underpins good practice in learning and teaching, and we continually evaluate as a key step in that cycle.

The following pages on this site will help you reflect on, and evaluate, your teaching activities:

- Why you should evaluate
- Feedback on Your Teaching

Evaluating Teaching Practice

Video Resources: Evaluating Your Teaching and Courses is a collaboration by the CELEBS community of practice to help academics evaluate all aspects of their teaching.

Click on the image below to access video resources that draw on the experience of Education Focussed academics from across the university.
See also

- Evaluating a Blended or Online Course
- Guidelines on Learning that Inform Teaching at UNSW